MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT BETWEEN
THE TOWN OF OLIVE AND ULSTER COUNTY
RELATED TO THE FEMA HMGP FLOOD BUY-OUT PROGRAM

THIS MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT, effective upon full execution, is agreed to and executed by and between the Town of Olive, a local government corporation having its principal office at Town Office, West Shokan, New York 12494 (the "Town"), and Ulster County, a municipal corporation having its principal office at 244 Fair Street, Kingston, New York 12401 (the "County") (each, a "Party;" together, the "Parties").

WHEREAS, pursuant to Section 404 of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, 42 U.S.C. § 5170, the Federal Emergency Management Agency ("FEMA") may contribute through the Hazard Mitigation Grant Program up to 75 percent of the cost of eligible measures designed to substantially reduce the risk of future damage, hardship, loss or suffering in an area affected by a major disaster; and

WHEREAS, the Hazard Mitigation Grant Program (HMGP) provides, among other things, funding by the federal government for the acquisition of properties that are located in flood-prone areas and demolition of flood-damaged structures thereon by local governments provided the acquisition of such properties and demolition of structures thereon is determined by FEMA to be cost-effective, and further provided that the permissible uses of all such properties after acquisition and demolition are to be restricted in perpetuity to uses compatible with open space, passive recreation, or wetlands management practice; and

WHEREAS, FEMA will reimburse 75% of all eligible costs including pre-flood fair market value, appraisal, title report, survey, recording fees, boundary survey, environmental site assessment as needed, demolition and site restoration; and

WHEREAS, under certain circumstances, FEMA will reimburse the remaining 25% of such eligible costs; and

WHEREAS, any costs not reimbursed by FEMA and/or New York State are the responsibility of the landowner; and will be reimbursed to the County by the landowner; and

WHEREAS, in August and September of 2011, many areas within Ulster County of New York State experienced severe flooding and flood-related property damage as a result of the record rainfalls over a short duration from Hurricane Irene and Tropical Storm Lee (the "Flood Events"); and

WHEREAS, as a result of the Flood Events and pursuant to the Hazard Mitigation Grant Program the County (as "Sub-Applicant") will be executing a contract with FEMA and/or NYS Office of Emergency Management (OEM) to fund property acquisition costs from willing sellers, and demolition projects that will be administered and facilitated by the County under a Town-established Flood Buyout Program (the "Flood Buyout Program"); and

WHEREAS, the County has agreed to manage, facilitate and administer the program components between the Town and eligible landowners and upfront funds as needed with the understanding the County will be 100% reimbursed by FEMA and/or New York State for eligible costs through the HMGP, and will be reimbursed by the landowner for any non-reimbursable costs.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the promises and mutual covenants and agreements set forth in this Agreement, and of the undertakings of each Party to the other Party, the Parties hereby promise and agree as follows:

1. The Town agrees to work in cooperation with the County to support eligible landowners through the Flood Buyout Program, and provide administrative assistance as needed.
2. The Town shall be responsible for taking title to the following property it has deemed beneficial for town purposes, and shall do so in accordance with deed restriction language as required by 44 CFR Part 80 (Draft Deed and required Exhibit A are attached hereto as "Attachment 1," which is hereby made a part of this Agreement):

4091 Route 28, Boiceville, NY 36.11-1-33
3. As the property is located within the New York City watershed and is to be acquired by the Town with the assistance of the City, the Town also agrees to convey a conservation easement on the property to the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation.
4. The Town understands and agrees that the property it acquires will be permanently converted to open space and shall not be used for future development including future planned improvements to roadways in the Federal aid highway system or US Army Corps of Engineers' flood levee systems.
5. Every three years from the date of conveyance, the Town will complete an inspection of the property it acquired pursuant to this Agreement, and will send to the NYS Office of Emergency Management and to the Ulster County Disaster Assistance Coordinator photo documentation to evidence compliance with the deed restrictions.
6. The Town shall keep records of assistance provided facilitating the acquisition of said property and submit such records to the Ulster County Disaster Assistance Coordinator.
6. Except as otherwise expressly provided for in this Agreement, the County shall be responsible for the administration and management of the Flood Buyout Program.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties have caused their duly authorized representatives to enter into this Agreement, effective as of the date of full execution.

Supervisor Rozzelle made a motion to amend the Town of Olive Police Commissioners Policy resolution #4, after some discussion she withdrew her motion and the resolution was tabled until next month.

On a Rozzelle/Sofranko motion, the Town Board unanimously approved Resolution #5 of 2015.

Town of Olive Resolution #5
RESOLUTION REGARDING THE REMOVAL OF PCBs FROM THE HUDSON RIVER

WHEREAS, the Hudson River is an American Heritage River, and the Valley a National Heritage Area, and the health and beauty of the Hudson River is critical to the economic vitality of the communities surrounding it, as well as the state and the country at large; and

WHEREAS, nearly 200 miles of the Hudson River — from Hudson Falls to New York City — are a federal Superfund site because the General Electric Corporation (GE) discharged large quantities of polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) from two of its manufacturing plants for thirty years, between 1947 and 1977; and

WHEREAS, PCBs are manmade, bio accumulative, persistent organic pollutants that have been linked to a wide variety of adverse health effects, including, among others: cancer, liver, and kidney disorders; reduced birth weight, conception rates, and live birth rates; persistent and significant deficits in neurological development, including visual recognition, short-term memory and learning; and developmental problems due to interference with thyroid hormone levels; and

WHEREAS, PCBs discharged by GE are present throughout the Hudson River ecosystem: in soils and sediments within the river and the surrounding floodplains; in the living tissues of wildlife, from low-level organisms to larger animals such as birds and fish; and, periodically, suspended in the river itself or in the air; and

WHEREAS, human beings may be exposed to PCBs by a variety of means, including eating PCB-contaminated fish or other contaminated foods, breathing in airborne PCBs, drinking PCB-contaminated water, or skin contact with PCB-laden soils; and

WHEREAS, in addition to posing ongoing health concerns, the continued presence of PCBs in the Hudson River has terminated or significantly damaged a number of formerly robust economic industries, including: the multi-million-dollar-a-year commercial fishing industry, closed below Hudson Falls since 1976; deep draft commercial shipping through the Champlain Canal, effectively closed for the past thirty years by the accumulation of PCB-contaminated sediments in the canal; and tourism, long-impaired by public perception that PCB contamination prevents the Hudson from being a safe or desirable place to visit or recreate; and

WHEREAS, the continued presence of PCBs in the Hudson River has also diminished the use and enjoyment of those who currently use the river, as exemplified by the longstanding NY State Department of Health (DOH) fish advisories against the consumption of recreationally caught fish and the numerous government-posted signs along the river warning of the presence of PCB-contaminated soils and sediments; and

WHEREAS, EPA determined in 2000 as part of its Reassessment Remedial Investigation/Feasibility Study (RI/FS) for the Hudson River Superfund Site that PCBs in the upper Hudson were a “dominant source” of “the PCB load to the water column of the Upper Hudson River,” and that microbial breakdown (natural attenuation) will not rid the River of PCBs; and

WHEREAS, the EPA’s 2002 Record of Decision for the Hudson River Site selected environmental dredging and off-site disposal of PCB-contaminated sediment from the Upper Hudson River as the best river sediment remedy to reestablish the ecological and economic health of the Hudson River; and

WHEREAS, since July of 2002, GE has agreed to a series of administrative orders of consent and has entered into a consent decree with EPA, all in which it has agreed to perform activities needed for implementation of the selected remedial action for river sediments; and

WHEREAS, this remedy segmented the Upper Hudson River into three sections by latitude, with a more stringent cleanup standard applied to River Section 1 than to River Sections 2 or 3; and

WHEREAS, GE commenced the first phase of remedial dredging in 2009, and the second and final phase in 2011; and

WHEREAS, in 2011, the U.S. National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service—the two federal agencies, along with the State of New York, entrusted with assessing the cost of GE’s “natural resource damage” liability for public losses incurred as a result of GE’s pollution of the Hudson River (the “Trustees”)—published reports identifying a number of problems with the 2002 river sediment remedy as implemented; and

WHEREAS, these problems included, among others: that failure to apply the more stringent criteria in River Sections 2 and 3, in practice, would leave behind the “equivalent to a series of Superfund-caliber sites” in those sections with average surface concentrations at “five times higher after remediation than predicted by the 2002 remedy;” that “the majority of the elevated post-construction sediment concentrations are adjacent to planned dredge areas” resulting in “the high likelihood of remediated areas becoming recontaminated;” that the rate of decline of PCBs in fish “was significantly overestimated” by earlier EPA models; and that unremediated sediments “will eliminate significant opportunities for restoration of natural resources in precisely those locations where it would be most valuable;” and

WHEREAS, despite these significant concerns, no modification to the scope or implementation of the 2002 river sediment remedy has been made either by EPA or GE; and

WHEREAS, significant amounts of PCBs also remain in the Hudson River floodplains, and portions of the Old Champlain Canal in Schuylerville; and

WHEREAS, GE anticipates it will complete its limited dredging operations in 2015, and presumably will begin dismantling its multi-million dollar infrastructure constructed for the dredging and dewatering of contaminated sediments shortly thereafter; and

WHEREAS, in September of 2014, GE agreed to an administrative order on consent regarding study of the Upper Hudson River floodplains to assist in the creation of an RI/FS for remediating those floodplains; and

WHEREAS, remaining PCB contamination within the river and the floodplains inhibits private and public growth, development, and recreational and business opportunities along the shores of the Hudson River and presents the risk of recontaminating the previously-cleaned areas planned for business or recreational use; and

WHEREAS, the current scope of planned dredging will not restore the Hudson River to its former ecological health, and the continued presence of highly contaminated sediments in the Upper Hudson River will prevent the revival of long-dormant economic opportunities for both the Upper and Lower Hudson communities; and

WHEREAS, these significant economic opportunities can only be unlocked by a robust cleanup of the Hudson that addresses contaminated sediments overlooked by the 2002 Record of Decision as well as other contaminated areas within and around the Hudson River;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Town of Olive hereby urges a more thorough removal of PCBs from the Hudson River and calls upon GE to: (1) dredge all areas of PCB-contaminated sediments in River Sections 2 and 3 that would require cleanup under the applicable-standards in River Section 1, including, at minimum, the 136 acres identified by the federal Trustees; (2) conduct any additional necessary removal of soils and sediments in PCB-contaminated “hot spots” in and around the Upper Hudson River, including cleanup of the Champlain Canal to ensure full use of the canal by deep draft shipping vessels; and (3) complete a thorough analysis and robust cleanup of the Hudson River, including the floodplains and the Old Champlain Canal, in order to restore the River to its full health and value as a natural and economic resource.

And further, BE IT RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution will be sent to:

- New York State Governor Andrew Cuomo

- NYS Department of Environmental Conservation
- NYS Canal Corporation
